WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925 and began writing humorous articles and creating cartoons for various magazines; and

WHEREAS, His first children’s book, And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street, was rejected by 43 publishers until, in 1937, a friend published the book for him; and

WHEREAS, In May 1954, Life magazine published a report concerning illiteracy among school children, stating that, among other things, children were having trouble learning to read because the books were boring; and

WHEREAS, Nine months later, Mr. Geisel, using only 220 of the words given to him, published The Cat in the Hat, which became an instant success; and

WHEREAS, In 1960, Bennett Cerf bet Mr. Geisel $50 that he could not write an entire book using only 50 words, and from that challenge came the famous children’s book Green Eggs and Ham, which was also an instant success; and

WHEREAS, From that point on, Theodor Seuss Geisel became known as “Dr. Seuss,” and children became enthused about reading every Dr. Seuss book available; and Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

We like to hear Bernie rhyme.
We like to hear it all the time.
We like to hear it on the floor.
We like to hear it more and more.
And so, without further ado, here’s Mr. Anderson to read to you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Today is especially exciting on the 107th birthday of the inventor of our guest, the Cat in the Hat. We have the Cat with us today, a good friend of mine. I’m going to read to you a Dr. Seuss “I can read it all by myself book” called, I Can Read With My Eyes Shut! It tells kids of all ages how much they can learn by reading and keeping their eyes open to the world.

I can read in red. I can read in blue.
I can read in pickle color too.
I can read in bed, and in purple, and in brown.
I can read in a circle and upside down.
I can read with my left eye.
I can read with my right.
I can read Mississippi with my eyes shut tight.
Mississippi, Indianapolis and Hallelujah, too!
I can read them with my eyes shut!
That is VERY HARD to do!
But it’s bad for my hat and makes my eyebrows get red hot.
So . . . reading with my eyes shut
I don’t do an awful lot.
And when I keep them open
I can read with much more speed.
You have to be a speedy reader
’cause there’s so, so much to read.

You can read about trees . . . and bees . . . and knees.
And knees on trees!
And bees on threes!
You can read about anchors.
And all about ants.
You can read about ankles!
And crocodile pants!
You can read about hoses . . .
And how to smell roses . . .
And what you should do about owls on noses!

Young cat! If you keep your eyes open enough, oh the stuff you will learn!
The most wonderful stuff!
You’ll learn about . . .
fishbones . . . and wishbones.
You’ll learn about trombones, too!
You’ll learn about Jake the Pillow Snake and all about Foo-Foo the Snoo.
You can learn about ice.
You can learn about mice.
Mice on ice.
And ice on mice.
You can learn about the price of ice.
“Nice ice for sale. Ten cents a pail.”

You can learn about SAD . . .
And GLAD . . . and MAD!
There are so many things you can learn about.
BUT . . . you’ll miss the best things if you keep your eyes shut.
The more that you read, the more things you will know.
The more that you learn, the more places you’ll go.
You might learn a way to earn a few dollars.
Or how to make doughnuts . . . or kangaroo collars.

You can learn to read music and play a Hut-Zut if you keep your eyes open.
But not with them shut.
If you read with your eyes shut, you’re likely to find
That the place where you’re going is far, far behind.

And these, of course, as we all know, are beautifully illustrated as all of you would be showing your children as you read this.

So . . . that’s why I tell you to keep your eyes wide.
Keep them wide open . . . at least on one side!

                        Chief Clerk of the Assembly
This day makes a negative impact on the human’s personality and psyche. You can fall into self-complacency. There is a growing desire to boast, to rise above others, to exaggerate your abilities. Despite the negative energy of the twenty-sixth day of the moon, the day is suitable enough for engagements and marriages. For the conception of a child the day is also favorable. The child obtains financial fortune in the future, but he/she is going to be unhappy, if he/she doesn't manage to fight his/her vanity and arrogance. Good, selfless deeds can only save him/her. Work and creativity. Day is a very dangerous one for workers of any field of activity. You must not try to manage important questions today; you better focus on small issues. No money, product or real estate deals should be done.

The twenty-sixth day of May is very special. It’s Mother’s Day! We give her flowers, we kiss her and hug. As I sit here, having only just started what might be my fortieth or fiftieth trip to sea I’m pondering over the life of a seafarer, looking back over the last twenty years and wondering if all my trips have had the same structure, the same cohesive points that make them flow. Or is each individual trip as different from the next as a day trip on the train from Edinburgh to Glasgow is to a hike up Everest! To encapsulate a trip within set boundaries in an attempt to give it structure, all start from the point that the front door is shut of the house!
