Helen's commitment to the development of scholarship by American Indians is symbolized by the Susan Kelly Power and Helen Hornbeck Tanner Fund, co-named for her, which supports work at The Newberry Library by Ph.D. candidates and post-doctoral scholars of American Indian heritage.
Historical maps of the Great Lakes region document Indian civilization. Tanner's preface about how she came to research the subject as a result of land claims to the Indian Claims Commission, is worth reading all by itself. Useful for students of Great Lakes history, Native American history, state and local history, and genealogy. Read more. 3 people found this helpful.
