Course Description:

This course will examine, through significant topics, personalities, and issues, the collective experience of African Americans in the United States. The course’s scope is the century following the end of Reconstruction to the present; its focus, the African Americans, both former slaves and freedmen, who attempted to maintain their dignity and to improve their lives after more than two centuries of bondage and racial discrimination.

Prerequisites:
Junior or Senior classification

Core Objectives for American History Foundational Component Area

Critical Thinking (to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information).

Communication (to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication)

Social Responsibility (to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national and global communities)

Personal Responsibility (to include the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making)

Student Learning Outcomes:

Through this course, students will be able to:

1) evaluate and synthesize historical writings related to the history of African Americans since 1877.

2) express their own ideas effectively in written and oral form.
3) identify historical and social contexts that created diversity in the American past, in present-day America and in human cultures more generally.

4) apply knowledge about the human condition- in American past and present- to their personal lives and studies.

5) articulate the significance of continuity and change over time as it relates to major themes in African American history.

Course Assignments:

Your grade will be based on three essay examinations (30% each= 90% total) and two in-class quizzes (5% each= 10% total).

Grading Scale (by percentage):

- 90-100 A
- 80-89 B
- 70-79 C
- 60-69 D
- 59 & below F

Attendance:

Attendance is strongly encouraged and students who miss more than three classes (without a university approved excuse) will be penalized the equivalent of ten points or one letter grade from their final course grade. Chronic absentees (students with six or more unexcused absences) will be penalized two letter grades. I will handle all excused absences and work related to them according to Student Rule 7. http://student-rules.tamu.edu/rule7.htm

Class Discussion:

I expect you to complete the reading in a timely fashion and participate in class discussions, which we will hold twice during the semester. In these discussions, we will discuss the connections among the material we have covered in lecture and reading and also how that material might inform your own contemporary choices. Thus, although there is not a class discussion/participation graded component to this course, I strongly encourage you to participate fully and to visit during my office hours to discuss any course related matter. I also can be reached by e-mail on a regular basis.

ADA - Students with Disabilities:
The Americans with Disabilities Act is a federal anti-discrimination law that provides civil rights protection for persons with disabilities. Among other things, this law requires that students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If a student believes that they have a disability requiring accommodation, they should contact the Department of Student Life, Services for Students with Disabilities, in Cain Hall (campus phone 845-1637). For additional information visit http://disability.tamu.edu

Academic Integrity:
"An Aggie does not lie, cheat or steal, or tolerate those who do." Students are expected to be aware of and adhere to the Aggie Honor Council Rules and Procedures, available at http://aggiehonor.tamu.edu.

Students are required to silence and put away cell phones during the class period and refrain from texting or using electronic devices with the exception of tablets or personal computers.

History majors who wish to explore career ideas are encouraged to contact our history department undergraduate advisors, Dr. Philip Smith (pms@tamu.edu) or Robyn Konrad (robyn-konrad@tamu.edu), in Room 105, Glasscock Bldg., or the Career Advisor for Liberal Arts, Tricia Baron (patricia@careercenter.tamu.edu) in room 209 Koldus for more information.

Consequently, the United States has implemented three rounds of tariff increases on a total of $250 billion worth of Chinese products, while China has increased tariffs on $110 billion worth of U.S. products. The Trump Administration has threatened to increase tariffs on nearly all remaining imports from China. What Is Section 301 and How Does It Work? Sections 301 through 310 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, are commonly referred to as “Section 301.” After the United States implemented the UR agreements and joined the WTO in 1995, the USTR still sometimes began Section 301 investigations but then brought the issues at hand to the WTO for dispute resolution. After 2010, the USTR brought all trade disputes involving WTO members directly to the WTO for adjudication.
